

Mission

The Foster Youth Independence Center of Milwaukee, Inc. is committed to providing youth who are aging out of the foster care system, emancipated youth, and their respective families with programs and services that help them transition from custodial care to living independently in their communities.

Philosophy

The Foster Youth Independence Center of Milwaukee considers each youth as a whole person. We create individualized independent living plans consistent with each youth's circumstances. It is the core philosophy of the FYI Center that youth transitioning out of foster care require support before age eighteen in order to facilitate a successful emancipation.

FYI believes the transition to independence should be seamless rather than separating pre and post-foster care experience. Guided by this philosophy, we provide services that complement the youth's assets and help him or her develop the skills necessary for living independently and responsibly in their communities.
